Sales & Product Specialist

The Semex Alliance is a dynamic global organization committed to the growth of our business, our employees and their careers.

We are currently seeking a professional and highly motivated individual for the new role of Sales & Product Specialist. This sales development position requires an individual with exceptional interpersonal skills and a results-oriented focus.

In this role, you will provide technical sales support to our Subsidiaries and Distributors, along with sales and product support for our global Semen and Embryo business. Your primary responsibilities will include:

- Technical support and training on Semex sales tools and dairy software programs
- Embryo sales and working with breeders to fulfill embryo orders
- Product analysis and recommendations to support our sales teams

The qualified candidate will have a diploma/degree in Agriculture (Business or Science) along with a minimum of 1 year related agricultural experience. General knowledge of the artificial insemination business, embryo transfer and genetic evaluations are required. To be successful in this role, you need a strong attention to detail and the ability to manage multiple priorities on tight timelines. As a people-oriented individual, you are comfortable interacting one-on-one and in group settings. The ability to speak, read and write in French is required for this role.

Semex believes that excellent people truly make a difference. Our aim is to search for the best, the brightest and the most energetic professionals. We offer a dynamic work environment and a competitive compensation package. If you have the skills to meet this challenging position, please send your resume by February 10 to the attention of:
